

What do Albertans Expect from Oil Sands Development?

UDI Wood Buffalo invites you to join us on Monday, December 5th at the Sawridge Inn & Conference Centre to listen to our Guest Speaker, Mr. Ken Chapman, answer this question.

Mr. Ken Chapman is the Executive Director of the Oil Sands Developers Group (OSDG). His focus is on helping to improve the quality of life in the oil sands development region and helping ensure proper environmental stewardship concurrently with responsible sustainable oil sands development. He works to engage directly with public policy designers and decision makers in all orders of government, local stakeholders, a wide range of industry sectors, environmentalists, scientists, Aboriginal groups and community leaders. He was a founder of Cambridge Strategies Inc., a public policy consultancy group prior to joining the OSDG. As a lawyer he championed a number of key cases from legalizing midwifery to establishing French language education rights in Alberta. He is very interested and involved in social media, citizen engagement, and deliberative democracy issues. He has an on-going and keen interest in arts and culture, creativity and innovation.

He has served on a number of boards from the Chairmanship of the Governing Council of Athabasca University to the National Theatre School, the Banff International Television Festival and Leadership Edmonton to name a few. He is a contributor and commentator on a wide range of public policy issues in newspapers, television, radio and magazines. He has been a widely read blogger and expects to return to writing an open journal about his journey of discovery and learning about the opportunities, responsibilities and communities that are furthered by oil sands development.

He is recognized as one of Alberta Ventures 50 Most Influential People in 2010 and received the Queen's Golden Jubilee Medal for service to community.
